

WIRTZ IN RACE FOR SENATOR, AND BACKING IS BIG

Governor, Many Federal Officials and All Factions Represented in Signatures

With high United States government officials and Governor Pinkham as his sponsors, in addition to a long list of voters at large in both the fourth and fifth districts, Ambrose J. Wirtz today filed in the office of the territorial secretary his nomination papers as candidate for senator from the third senatorial district, which is the island of Oahu.

He is a candidate for reelection, as he is just closing a term in the upper house, having been elected in 1912. His nomination papers bears the most impressive list of signatures—a requirement under the direct primary law—of any candidate who has so far come into the open.

It is headed by Collector of Customs Malcolm Franklin and bears the signatures also of Governor Pinkham, Territorial Treasurer McCarthy, Will Wayne, secretary to the governor, Attorney-General Steinback, Deputy Attorney-General Heen, U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue Haley, Land Commissioner Riverburgh, High Sheriff Jarrett, U. S. Marshal Smiddy, Circuit Judge C. W. Ashford, Tax Assessor Wilder, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court Watson, Albert E. Harris, who is Marshal Smiddy's deputy, William E. Miles, former secretary to Mayor Fern, and W. H. McClellan, former supervisor.

Political observers will also be interested in seeing that County Sheriff Charles H. Rose, his deputy, Julius W. Asch, and Captain of Detectives Arthur McDuffie are among Wirtz's sponsors, that the police force is largely represented on his list, and that he has signatures from many fifth district voters.

While no Democrat who is among the leaders of the extreme anti-Pinkham and pro-McClelland faction is on the list, there are a number of Democrats there generally classed as McClelland men. A survey of the names seems to indicate that he will get the support of both of the principal Democratic factions and of several of the minor divisions.

Senator Wirtz said this morning that he expects to receive not only Democratic support but non-partisan support as well in his race for nomination at the primaries on October 1. He resides in the third precinct, fourth district, which is Manoa.

Federal Judge Vaughan, District Attorney Huber and Assistant Attorney General have not been in the territory long enough to qualify as signers, or they would have been on the list also, Senator Wirtz intimated.

DEATH MAY END CLEW TO CRIME IN WAIKIKI CASE

indicated in the affair or had met a similar fate, and again by the same woman telling him the girl had returned home safely.

Absence of any apparent motive for the crime is the most baffling feature. Considerable valuables in the cottage were untouched and there is evidence only of a desire by persons to commit a cold-blooded murder, spurred on by some strong passion, or hate.

On August Monday, Deputy Asch has selected his coroner's jury. The jurors went this morning to view the body and were requested to report for the inquest later. However, it may not be held at that time. Developments will be de-

PLANTATION NOT RESPONSIBLE, IS MANAGER'S POINT

Oahu Sugar Company Railroad Tragedy Declared Due to Men's Carelessness

That no employee of the plantation was in charge of the two cars which last week ran down hill and crashed into an up-coming train, with the loss of two lives and injury to nearly a score more, was the declaration made yesterday to the Star-Bulletin by Manager E. K. Bull of the Oahu Sugar Company.

He agrees with the verdict of the coroner's jury which investigated the accident that the men came to their deaths and injuries by their own carelessness.

He says that Deputy Sheriff Jack Fernandez' statement, that testimony showing a plantation luma caused the accident when he released the brakes on the two unattached cars, is incorrect.

"All of the men, talking over getting home quickly, agreed on taking these cars down the hill and no one man can be held responsible," Manager Bull says. "The men are cane contractors and the one who actually released the brakes was not put in charge of the cars or the men by the plantation. I consider that the inference in published stories; that the plantation is in any way responsible for the accident, is unjust."

Manager Bull adds that the men have been warned again and again not to take these chances on plantation railroads but that warnings seem to have little effect. "You know how these men are—they will take chances. That was the case in this instance."

He was asked what the plantation did to discipline men who persisted in disobeying orders regarding "taking chances."

"What can we do? We do our best and no plantation in the islands is any more careful than Oahu, and yet accidents will occur, as they do in any business."

It appears that in spite of verbal warnings the plantation hands persist in "taking chances" on the plantation railroad.

As to the lack of lights on the cars running down-hill, he said that lights would have done no good, as the curve where the cars smashed into the train was so sharp the two approaching parties could not see each other.

Verdict and Testimony.

The verdict of the coroner's jury says in part that Sakuta Kawanaga, aged 28, and Masafiro Matsushima, aged 41, both natives of Japan, came to their death August 4, 1916, at Wai-pahu, district of Ewa, from extensive crushing injuries accidentally received in a head-on collision of empty cane cars of the Oahu Sugar Company, causing shock and hemorrhage, said deaths being due to their own carelessness.

The burden of the testimony of John Carlos, engineer of the locomotive pushing the train up the hill; of his brakeman, R. Rodriguez, who was on the front of the train when the crash came, and of E. Kiano, a laborer who came down on the two unattached cars, was that Carlos had passed the working men about 8:30, telling them he would come back up the hill for them about 7 o'clock.

Matsutaro Dodo, who has been employed by the Oahu Sugar Co. for about 10 years and who was in charge of the men who were killed and injured, as a luma, said he did not know the locomotive was coming back and did not see it pass the first time, as he was working in a distant part of the field. The copy of his testimony does not include an admission that he voluntarily released the brakes, but this was understood over the telephone by a Star-Bulletin representative talking to Deputy Sheriff Jack Fernandez, coroner at the inquest. It is presumed, however, that Dodo did start the cars from this part of his testimony. "If any one had told me that the locomotive was coming back I would not have done this." The "this" refers to a previous statement—

"Not knowing that the locomotive was coming up after us, as soon as we got through work we all boarded the cars, and started down." Dodo also testified that the men worked overtime that night.

He is a brother here and a sister. The latter is Fujimoto's wife.

NAVAL MILITIA CRUISE GRANTED BY SEC. DANIELS

15-Day Voyage Aboard Cruiser St. Louis to Be Held, Says Radiogram Today

Washington, D. C., August 12.

"Your cable 11th. Practice cruiser Hawaii Naval Militia authorized on St. Louis and command officer directed make arrangements for this cruise. Pay, subsistence and transportation authorized. No payment authorized Saturday to Monday, drills. Daniels."

Extremely good news to officers and enlisted men of the Naval Militia arrived today from Washington, when the above Federal radiogram was received by Governor Lucius E. Pinkham from Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, authorizing a 15-day cruise on the U. S. first-class cruiser St. Louis, flagship of the commandant at Pearl Harbor.

At the request of officers of the Naval Militia, Governor Pinkham wired Secretary Daniels yesterday asking for authorization of the cruise, and also authorization for payment of subsistence and transportation for the naval militiamen during the Saturday to Monday drills which are to be held aboard the St. Louis regularly.

This morning's answer authorizes the cruise, but denies the request for pay during week-end drills.

The reply from the secretary of the navy adds that the commanding officer of the St. Louis has been directed to make arrangements for the cruise. Over the telephone this afternoon Rear-Admiral Clifford J. Boush, commandant at Pearl Harbor, who will be succeeded Monday by Capt. George R. Clark, who arrives from San Francisco this afternoon on the U. S. army transport Logan, said that the date of the cruise had not yet been decided, but will undoubtedly be determined by consultation between the St. Louis' commanding officer, Lieut. Comdr. Victor S. Houston, and the adjutant-general of the Naval Militia of Hawaii, Brig. Gen. Samuel I. Johnson. It is expected to be the latter part of this month, beginning between August 22 and 25.

Brig. Gen. Johnson called at the governor's office at noon and when informed of the news said he is delighted and that the cruise will be of great benefit to the Naval Militia of Hawaii.

BODY OF LABORER FOUND IN TENEMENT; DEAD SEVERAL DAYS

The body of K. Saito, a Japanese laborer, about 46 years old, was found this morning by Deputy Sheriff Julius W. Asch in one of Y. Nakashima's tenement houses on Dowsett lane. The body had lain for some time and was in an awful state of decomposition. The man was last seen alive last Friday. Saito had no relatives here and as soon as the body is examined by Police Surgeon R. G. Ayer it will be buried by the county.

Asch has seen signs enough for a long time, he says. Early yesterday morning he was called to the J. B. Castle home to view a victim who had been hacked and chopped to death in one of the most heinous murders he ever had knowledge of, and this morning he was obliged to take charge of a body that was far more repulsive.

Saito is said to have been a hard drinker, who bought a sack of food, a jug of wine and paid his room rent regularly once a week. Proof of no relatives is found in his limited effects in a statement, "last of the Saito family."

Child Labor of Different Type Shown in Court

Part-Hawaiian Girl is Taken From Foster Mother and Remanded to Sister

Nearly 16 years old and only in the third grade, the victim of repeated beatings by her foster mother, and a "maid of all work" who did the cooking, washing and scrubbing, a pretty part-Hawaiian girl today was remanded to the custody of her sister by Circuit Judge C. W. Ashford, acting judge of the juvenile court.

The girl wept bitterly as she told her story to the judge. Pulling up the sleeve from her left arm she exhibited a long scar, caused, she said, by a knife thrown at her by her foster mother. The girl said she was tired of doing all the household work while her foster mother sat around and "bossed the job."

Because she had looked after her for about nine years, the foster mother told the judge she thought she had a right to keep the girl. But Judge Ashford could not see it that way. He said he thought the girl should have a good home with blood relatives, as long as one was available, and an opportunity to go to school.

The girl's sister said she was married and that her husband was earning good wages; also that she was able to provide for her little sister. So the judge let the girl go with her sister, after securing a promise that she would obey her sister and go to school.

DULL DAY MARKS CLOSE OF WEEK, PRICES LOWER

Weekend outings may explain the deep dullness, the quietude that reigned over the local stock market from Friday's session to the blowing of the noon whistle today. A total of 100 shares of stock and those in only three companies was the slim total of sales between boards. Oiaa comprised 60 shares of these, all at $17.50, Waiialua was $36.87½ and McBryde $12.62½. At the session sales were 310 shares. Oiaa was unchanged in price, McBryde sold down 25 cents and Oahu was $34½, under last sale.

In unlisted securities 1050 shares of Oil sold at $5.35, Engels Copper at $2.50 for 1200 shares and Tipperary at 9 cents for 1000 shares. Mineral Products was quoted at 98 asked, and Mountain King at 70 asked.

MILITARY CAMP FOR GUARD ONLY HAS OPPOSITION

Unless Project is For Both Regulars and Militia It Has Opponents

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) HILLO, August 11.—Opposition has developed to the establishment of a big permanent military camp near the volcano—that is if the proposition is intended for the militia alone. It was pointed out by several speakers at the board of trade meeting that national guardsmen who go into camp for two weeks each year are expected to rough it during that period and to do work that would correspond with actual war conditions. That is supposed to be a part of their training and it is not thought right to provide expensive quarters which are estimated to cost $35,000 for the guards alone.

C. Castendyk brought the subject up by asking what had been done in regard to the military camp near the volcano. C. C. Kennedy said that he had been told that $6000 was in sight and that the committee appointed to look after the financial end of the proposition in Hillo were hard at work. Thomas Guard said that he thought the committee had a list of figures that added up to $6000, and that was about all.

E. F. Nichols said that he had been in touch with Col. J. D. Easton and other national guard officers and that they declared that the proposed camp would be meant for regulars as well as the guards and that the latter could not expect any such camp. The national guard officers added that the militia would get real rough work during their two weeks' encampment.

As there was no report turned in by the committee that has charge of the matter, the discussion was dropped.

Cleaning was attempted at the city and county garage, and had it not been for the timely action of mechanics there who three water and dirt on the flames, the damage probably would have been great, the doctor believes.

"Naula is a competent mechanic," says the doctor, "and I do not blame him for what he did. Last week he painted the motor and this probably caused it to heat rapidly."
